Gentlemen, as we advance our negotiations and positions, one issue that will be important as we consider 506(b)'s is the attorney's fees claims of the bondholders, which I expect will be quite large. If you could please walk me through how the individual noteholders would be entitled to postpetition attorney's fees (or prepetition for that matter). This will become an important issue as we discuss AMRR/Prosperity/overall claim to pay.

Thank you
